ISSUE MOVIE RULES

Objectionable Features Must be Removed by Picture Men

SEX PROBLEMS BANNED

Rigid Stands of Propriety Set ---Tax Must be Paid and Stamp Affixed

Rules and standards for the commercial exhibition of motion-picture films and stereopticon views which have been established by the state board of censors, effective June 1, are now being distributed in pamphlet form to manufacturers, dealers, police officials and others.

No reel or slide can be shown which is not stamped "Approved by the Pennsylvania state board of censors," and in order to get thecensors to affix this stamp it is necessary to make formal application and to have the censors inspect the view.

The fee is $2.50 for each reed not more than 1200 feet long, and the same amount for each slide. Inspections are to be made at rooms provided by the applicant. Religious, fraternal and educational organizations, libraries, museums and first-class corporations need not pay a fee. Complaints about movies on slides must be in writing, signed by the complainant.

In announcing the standards for films and slides, the board says it will "endeavor to banish posters or handbills or other advertising matter concerning motion pictures where they are sensational and misleading." and it seeks the co-operation of the movie people to this end, as well as in a further "endeavor to establish standards on progressive lines and to keep motion pictures attuned to public opinion and not necessarily in harmony with productions of the stage or newspapers."

For Clean Entertainment

The board prefers "to restrict the motion pictures to such as would afford clean entertainment or amusement, and to eliminate everything which would tend to debase or inflame the mind to improper adventures or all false standards or conduct."

Other standards follow: "The feeling of reverence for certain things or forces counted sacred is deep-seated in all men. and because of its very nature requires unusually careful treatment. Farce, burlesque or drama, which is actuated by levity or any other than serious purposes will be discouraged."

"Barrooms, drinking and drunkenness have a legitimate place in the motion picture. The objection, however, lies in the proportion they may bear to all other scenes. If the drama requires such scenes and gives them realism and local color. and if used with discretion they may be permitted."

"Unless vulgarity closely borders on immorality or indecency the board may ignore it."

If live scenes "are treated truthfully, systematically and artistically no

NEW CARS SECURED

Pittsburg-Charleroi Line to Have Low Step Affairs

IN SERVICE ELSEWHERE

The Pittsburg Railways company will place in service on the Pittsburg-Charleroi line within a few days a new type of car that will be of the low step variety and designed to accommodate women wearing hobble skirts.

This car is of the all-steel variety in construction and has side-door entrances, operated by air. They have but one step, it being inside the door, thus doing away with the outside steps. The car has a seating capacity for sixty-six persons. The seats on one side are the same as on the large interurban cars now in use. being of steel frame covered with green plush. The seats on the opposite side are one continuous seat of the ratan make.

The car is mounted in two double trucks and operated by four separate motors. It is much lower in construction and is a very easy riding car.

These cars being much lighter do not require the amount of power to operate them as do the larger cars, though much more serviceable than the present cars. They are already in operation on the Washington line.

SMALL CAR DERAILED ON THE THROUGH LINE

A small car—number 607—on the Pittsburg-Charleroi line was accidentally derailed at New Eagle Monday night at 10:25. The car was soon replaced and little damage done.

HOSPITAL AFFAIRS NOW IN GOOD SHAPE

Board of Directors Makes Report of Condi ions ---Complete Staff of Physicians Now at Work

Affairs of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital are in good shape, according to reports made at a meeting of the board of directors held last week. The hospital now has a complete staff of physicians, seven on the medical staff and seven on the surgical staff. The hospital staff includes a specialist on the eye, ear, nose and throat, and a dentist.

The hospital building has been completely renovated at a cost of $600 and new equipment is now being selected. State auditors have examined the books and found everything to be in good shape. They stated from their findings that the finances had been carefully managed.

The number of patients admitted during the first quarter of this year was 58. There were four deaths, all of severely injured patients. There was one birth. The number of patients in the hospital on March 1 was 26. The hospital association says that with earnest co-operation of the public, the hospital will soon be able to provide ample care for the sick and unfortunate, which at times cannot be accommodated owing to limited quarters.

The hospital staff as elected for a term consists of Drs. H. J. Repman. E. C. Stahlman, Edwin McKay, T. M. Eaddis, J. W. Hunter, and J. Clive Enos of Charleroi; Dr. N. B. Lohman, of Belle Vernon: Dr. L. M. Mitchell of Pricedale; and Drs. E. B. Sloterbeck, A. R. Wilson. H. W. Day, F. C. Duvall, W. D. Hunter and W. B. Stewart, the last named a dentist, all of Monessen.

GLASS COMPANY SEEKS RECOVERY FOR BREAKAGES

In the suit of the Macbeth-Evans Glass Co., of Pittsburg, with a plant at Charleroi. against the P. R. R. Co. for damages, by reason of the breakage of a glass house pot and tile, in the shipment of the same, the railroad company has filed its answer.

The railroad company in the first place avers the material shipped was of a fragile nature, and not properly packed. It is further alleged the entire shipment was not injured, but only one pot, the value of which does not exceed $50 and therefore, if they, the railroad company, is indebted to said glass company, it is claimed the sum is not over $50.

The glass company refused to accept the car of pots and tiles and claims damages for the full shipment It is denied that the car containing the pots and tile was wrecked or that it was carelessly and negligently handled. The railroad company makes a tender of $50 to the glass company, less whatever freight charges remain to be paid on said consignment.

Dance Notice

I wish to call attention to all parties holding invitations to my series of dances at Armory Hall, Monongahela. Some of the girls from the Musical Maidens Orchestra were called away on business and it will be impossible for them to get back in time to fill their contract with me. I have engaged the Culp's Military Orchestra from Pittsburg to play for me Wednesday night. April 29. Have also engaged the famous Pascale from the well known Colonial Dancing Academy of Pittsburg to play on Wednesday. May 6. I have gone to quite a little trouble and expense to have these two well known orchestras give my patrons at the Armory a treat. You will hear something in the music line that is well worth hearing, by professional musicians that cannot be duplicated anywhere. Try and attend. If you don't you will certainly miss a good time. Yours very truly,

They have stacked up against a number of major league clubs and have furnished when opposing these, rattling good contests.

Two players have ben signed by President P. B. Wreath from Daisytown, that dot on the map a mile or so back of California. "Bill" Kelleway, a pitcher, and Mike Garnic. a catcher, are the players. Kelleway looks as big as a house and both appear to have the goods. They are young and are only seeking a try out.

Manager Charles M. "Hank" O'Day is doing abit of circulating among the fans these days getting acquainted. He is an affable Hank, and a good mixer. But that only gives a hint of the real Charles M. He is a working man, is Hank, and he carries a card in the Metal Polishers. Platers and Buffers of his home state. Indiana. And by the way he has mined some too. ## RAILROAD CASES UP

Court Hears Testimony in Summary Conviction Appeals

WITNESSES NUMEROUS

Many witnesses were present in court Thursday in the matter of the appeals from summary convictions, which were heard before Judge McIlvaine. The actions grow out of the arrest of a number of employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., working on the Monongahela division, for alleged violations of city and borough ordinances in Monongahela and West Brownsville in the alleged blocking of crossings in these places.

The entire trouble, it is said, originated in the strike of trainmen on that division of the P. R. R. system.

The men arrested were taken before officials in these towns. fined and assessed the costs. Frim these judgments petitions for appeals were presented to the court and the appeals were allowed. The court heard the facts, as given by witnesses for the plaintiffs and defendants.

Counsel for the presecution moved to quash the appeals on the ground that bonds had not been filed to secure costs. The cases of C. M. Keller, P. L. Corbin and James Hess were continued until bonds are filed.

The cases heard were those against Lawler and McGuire trainmen, arrested for the alleged blocking of what is known as School House alley, West Brownsville. It is a question whether or not this alley is a "crossing" over the tracks of the railroad company at that place. Following this case the one in which J. B. Williams is defendant was heard. The matter is now with the court.

THE DOVE OF PEACE

At this stage it looks as though the prospects are rather better for peace than for war with Mexico. Huerta, the dictator, has accepted the kindly offices of meditation for peace from the representatives of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, and as he can take advantage of the opportunity to backtrack from his hostile attitude, the indications are that war will be averted. The United States, of course must make some compromises and concessions in its attitude, and if this is done peace will be effected.

This sudden change in the situation shows the wisdom of President Wilson's policy in not being in haste to have war declared. With the excellent prospects for peace, it is seen how easily the hasty or the stubborn action of one or two individuals may precipitate grave national problems. It is shown that President Huerta is willing to back down at the last moment, rather than precipitate his country in war, provided he can do it gracefully. President Wilson evidently counted upon some such action, when he counseled delay, and if the situation is cleared up without an actual declaration of hostilities, one of the peaceful triumphs of the age will have been accomplished.

PENROSE ON THE FLAG

Boies Penrose, senior United States senator from Pennsylvania, stirred to wild enthusiasm an immense audience in the Trinity Methodist church, in Philadelphia, on Sunday evening.

Senator Penrose was delivering an address at a flag presentation in that church. He was greeted by an immense audience and his glowing tribute to the American flag simply overwhelmed his hearers. He was frequently interrupted by outbursts of cheering and applause.

Senator Penrose spoke of the fitness of exposing the American flag in all churches. Religion and patriotism, he said, go hand in hand, and he urged that the presence of the flag in places of religious worship would inspire patriotic devotion, as it has already done in the public schools. In concluding his speech Senator Penrose said:

"No other banner is entitled to the honor that is due the American flag. Other emblems have represented dynasties or were carried at the head of armies of plunder, aggression and oppression; but the flag of the United States has always represented the highest ideals of the country represented on all occasions freedom, humanity and unity of nation."

The Penrose address was scholarly and in excellent taste. As the close Senator Penrose was meeting committee [illegible] members of the church and [illegible] organizations attending.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

One of the most unique and spectacular feats of engineering attempted in modern railroad construction will be started in Spokane next week, when the actual work of spanning the Spokane falls will be begun by O. W. R. & N. company engineers.

Nine thousand tons of steel trusses, towers and girders are to be set upon the concrete piers already in place, and the unusual physical conditions are such that engineering genius has been taxed to the utmost to provide safe and reliable methods for accomplishing the work.

Leaving a huge fill which skirts the river's bank the line will be built on a steel bridge above a huge concrete bridge owned by the city. The railroad bridge will then be swung across the river directly over the great cataract in the Spokane river, and 150 feet above the water. At this point the river falls abruptly a distance of 15 feet in a rocky gorge 125 feet deep.

Thrills and danger will attend every step in the progress of spanning this chasm, and none but men with the strongest nerves will be permitted to work high above the boiling waters in placing and riveting the huge steel girders.

Manager Charles M. O'Day of the Charleroi Governors tells a story about real speed, baseballically and otherwise. He says that a party of baseball men were talking one day about speed. One of them related a story of a man whom he said could "run as fast as a bullet."

"Wait until I tell you about him," he said. "The other day he was in a game. He banged away at a pretty one right over the plate and landed on it for a line drive. The ball went like lightning right at the pitcher's head. Instantly that man was off for his tour of the bases.

"Well, sir, can you believe it—when that man was rounding second base that ball hit him on the ear."

Another man in the party was hardly impressed. He grinned.

"That was no speed," he said. "I've got one that will beat that. The other night a friend of mine went home. He has a large room. In the far corner is the bed and at the doorpost 15 feet away is the electric light button.

"He turned on the light and looked around the room. Everything was allright, so he decided to retire at once. Well that speed merchant was so speedy that he pushed that button and was over in that bed, fully undressed, before the room was dark.

OLE BULL'S AMERICAN TOURS

Famous Violinist Was Always a Favorite in This Country, Where His Ability Was Recognized.

The first American appearance of Ole Bull, the renowned Norwegian violinist, was at the Park theater in New York 70 years ago on November 25, 1843. Bull was born in Norway in 1810, and his parents intended him for the church, but from his early childhood he manifested a passion for music which could not be denied. His first master, Spohr, a German violinist, was not much impressed by his Norwegian pupil, and discouraged rather than encouraged his ambition. Bull wounded a German in a duel and fled to Paris, where he was robbed of his money and violin, and, deeply despondent, threw himself into the Seine, only to be rescued by fishermen. A woman who had witnessed the attempt at suicide provided him with the means of continuing his musical studies, and he soon developed into a genius. His first American tour lasted two years, and was a financial and artistic success. In 1852 "the Paganini of the North" returned to America and attempted to plant a Scandinavian colony in Pennsylvania, but lost most of his fortune in the project and returned to the concert field. He was from the first a great favorite with Americans, and at his death, which occurred at Bergen, Norway, in 1880, was sincerely mourned by thousands on this side of the Atlantic.

HAD THE TIME OF HER LIFE

Woman in Sanitarium for Alcoholics Found Herself the Pet of All the Inmates.

"No woman knows what it means to be truly popular until she has dined at an alcoholic cure institute," a woman said. "I acknowledge that that is about the last place on earth to go to seek popularity, but a colorless woman, who unfortunately has been denied popularity elsewhere is bound to find it at the institute. I did. I was not sent up as an alcoholic. I had a relative who had been persuaded to take the cure. As I was the only person on earth who had stuck to him through thick and thin, he urged me to see him through the institute ordeal.

"I went. I ate there with him. There were 14 other patients at the table, all men. The first two days the ordeal of eating three meals a day with 15 'dips' sitting to the right, to the left, and in front of me nearly drove me crazy, but for the sake of my relative I stuck it out.

"Then I began to be popular. I was the first woman who had dined at that table. The men braced up in my honor. They couldn't do enough for me. At the end of the first week I was having the time of my life, socially considered. Imagine what it means for a woman who has never been pestered by the attentions of men suddenly to find 15 men, well bred, well educated, most of them, striving to outdo each other in entertaining her and not another woman in the limelight. It was simply great."

Historic Vessel in Fishing Fleet.

The sailing of the schooner Thomas F. J. Howlett from Philadelphia for southern fishing grounds recalls the history of the vessel. The schooner once the Carmita, was used with the schooner Wanderer during Civil war times as a slave ship. She ran from the West Indies to the United States.

During one of her slave-carrying voyages, the Carmita was fired upon and captured off Charleston, S. C., by a United States government vessel. A short time afterward the Wanderer met the same fate. Both vessels were taken to Charleston and offered for sale by the government, and the present owners bought the vessels.

The Carmita was rebuilt in 1910 at the yard of a Wilmington shipbuilding concern, and her name changed to the Thomas F. J. Howlett. She was then added to a fleet of fishing schooners. The vessel recently had a 50-horsepower engine installed.

Risked One of its Nine Lives.

A cat's experience, the other day in South London, England, would seem to prove the truth of the adage that a cat has nine lives. Sitting calmly on the tramway track near Kensington Gate the cat obdurately refused to heed the clanging of the bell of an approaching tramcar, and it was not until the driver dismounted that the animal moved. Then, to the driver's dismay, it ran under the car. No amount of coaxing would lure the cat from its dangerous position, and eventually it was decided that the car should proceed. People listened patiently for the wails of a mangled and crushed creature, but no sound was heard, and when the vehicle reached Blackfriars the cat was discovered sitting on the motor beneath the car, apparently uninjured and none the worse for its perilous ride.

Liberia.

The Republic of Liberia was founded in 1820 by the American Colonization society, which was established by Henry Clay in 1816. The capital of the republic, Monrovia, was so named in honor of James Monroe, president of the United States at the time the republic was founded. Many blacks were taken over from this country with the idea that, having become civilized to a certain extent here they would act as valuable assistants to the natives in the state. Liberia has never prospered and is at the present time "in the hands of a re

To the adolescent and adult of arrested development such may awaken the imagination and becomes suggestive of immorality and indecency. In such matters the board will lean toward the conservative side."

Ban on Sex Plays.

Infidelity and sex problem plays "are not considered by the board a legitimate subject for motion pictures and the board will insist that they be treated with seriousness and artistic reserve."

"Women drinking and smoking—The board disapproves of showing a good woman doing what would be considered a bad thing by the society of which she forms a part. If it be found to be a question of taste the picture will be judged entirely on its own merits. The place the incident occupies in the pictures and the final total effect will be the determining factor."

"Underworld scenes, opium dens, objectionable dances, flirtations, questionable resorts, etc—When scenes of this kind are produced it will be in such a manner that no spectator is stimulated to attempt to duplicate them or similar scenes."

Deeds of violence and crime in general will be handled in the same way and the board concludes its standards with the following summary:

"Pictures will be judged as a whole, with a view to the final total effect they have upon the audiences, and will not be condemned because of some little incident in them, if it becomes merely tributary to the principal idea which may be good, and not one of the features of the story to be remembered and emulated."

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will ### Ambulances.

Ambulances date from the closing years of the eighteenth century. Prior to that time surgical assistance did not reach the battlefield till the day after the engagement, or later, when to a large proportion of the wounded it was of no avail. About 1792 Larrey introduced the "flying field hospitals," capable of moving from place to place with speed, like the "flying artillery" of the time. Nobly assisted by Napoleon, Larrey brought his system to a fair degree of perfection. It was not until the great Civil war in the United States, however, that the ambulance system reached a thorough organization. Since then the system has, of course, received many important improvements.

Logical.

The Englishman and German were arguing about their different navies.

"Oh," said the German, "there is always something the matter with your navy. Only yesterday a battleship was fast in the mud."

"Well," said the Englishman, "if a battleship is fast in the mud it would be a record-breaker in the open sea."

Just the Man.

"I understand you got into jail," said the warden, "on account of a glowing mining prospectus."

"I was quite optimistic," admitted the gentlemanly prisoner.

"Well, the governor wants a report on conditions in my jail. I want you to write it."
